

My name is Tamara,

I love sun, sea, music, wine, coffee and books. I am 31 years old and I am a teacher by profession. Quite by accident, I studied three different specialties - I studied Philology in Serbia, Arts and Psychology in Bulgaria. That is why, in addition to Slavic languages, I have studied West Germanic languages together with some Romance languages.

And Latin is my old love :)

My biggest problem was mixing the languages, which made me face my lack of confidence whenever having a conversation. The biggest issue for me was talking to someone when he/ she knew English better than me. Even the thought of people secretly laughing at me made me nervous, having the constant feeling that no matter how long I study, the whole process goes too slow and I'll never be good enough to speak freely and express myself. I felt this every time I needed to talk to someone, especially in front of a group of people.

Now I have already overcome all those fears and I have been teaching foreign languages for almost 10 years. So that's why I'm here, to help you overcome your personal fears and learn English effectively.
